CAMPBELL RAILROAD SERVICE.

As a result of the earthquake the long tunnel at Wright's was caved in and it may be months before trains can pass over the mountains to Santa Cruz, as the railroad company will certainly broad-gauge the tunnels as the narrow gauge service is a thing of the past, except from San Jose to Almaden. The change was put into effect Monday. As the travel to Santa Cruz and other towns in that section is of necessity diverted around the long route the railroad business to Campbell and Los Gatos is diminished to the minimum and the train service has been cut to suit the demands. Of course the railroad company cannot be blamed for that.

Mr. Berry, the agent, feels lost without his usual rush. The 7:10 and 8:26 north-bound morning trains have been abolished as well as the the 4:30 and 6:51 south-bound afternoon trains, leaving us but the 6:35 morning train north, the 3:18 afternoon train north and the 10:30 morning train south and the 6:30 train south. These trains all run into the Oakland mole now, by way of Elmhurst, the Alameda mole being used only for local traffic.

The poor morning service north will cause our people to go by the Interurban cars to San Jose and there take the steam road for San Francisco, Oakland, etc. But the worst part of this new arrangement is the manner in which it has effected our mail service. The morning mail goes north at 6:35, which for earliness has advantages, but the mail is closed by 7 o'clock the night before. The 6:30 afternoon train from the north brings the mail, which has its advantages for lateness, but too late to be of much service before morning, as it comes but a few minutes (if on time) before closing of mail, and it comes when the majority of our people are at their suppers. But we'll get accustomed to it and govern ourselves accordingly.

Fortunately the mail service is helped out by the Interurban car route, one mail coming by that route—at 9:35 a. m. Then a mail leaves Campbell over that route at 4:05 p. m. See notice of arrival and departure of mails in another column.

A Mark of Refinement

Cleanliness of person is one of the most distinguishing marks of refinement, and commands at all times the highest respect. To promote cleanliness, install in your sleeping apartment or dressing room a snowy white, one-piece provided with an abundant flow of hot and cold running water.

"Standard"

Porcelain Enameled Lavatory

"CONVENIENCE"

It is very pleasant and convenient to arise in the morning and have at your touch a proper place for making the toilet, without having to partially dress in order to reach the bathroom—possibly to find it already occupied.

If you can possibly arrange space for a "Standard" Lavatory in your room, the cost will not compare with the resulting comforts.

We have sample one-piece "Standard" Lavatories in our showroom and respectfully invite you to examine them.

cury a few days ago giving a doleful tale as to how the orchardists in this locality had suffered by the earthquake in demolished building and stating that no notice was being shown them by the papers, even suggesting that a reporter be sent out to interview these unfortunates. The orchardists have had their full share of burdens in the past, but those in the Campbell section have no reason to complain at the way the "quake" treated them, when compared with their neighbors. Of course Campbell postoffice covers a territory some six by eight miles square and it may be that a few houses in that territory are badly wrecked, but we have heard of none, save for the falling of chimneys, (in some instances doing considerable damage to the inside of the house in the fall.) Some windmills and water tanks fell, plaster was damaged, but what is that when we think of the loss of life and damage to property in San Francisco, Santa Rosa, Oakland, Redwood City, Halfmoon Bay, Palo Alto, Stanford University, Mountain View, Santa Clara, Agnews, San Jose, Los Gatos, Santa Cruz, Watsonville, Gilroy, Hollister, Salinas, and the intervening points. Yes, we have every reason to feel grateful.

PROF. CHAS. PANNELL is an honorary member for life of Local No. 153 of San Jose, and in the April number of the International Musician of St. Louis, a paper with nearly fifty thousand subscribers throughout America and Canada, appears an excellent portrait of Prof. Pannell, in connection with this complimentary notice:

Local No. 153 presents to the readers of the International Musician one of her adopted sons, Brother Charles Pannell, formerly of St. Louis, as one deserving of special mention. Brother Pannell will be remembered by many music loving people of St. Louis. He was a member of the Musiker Unterstuetzung Verein as far back as 1867 —was also a member of the National League of Musicians in 1880, and the Aschenbroedel Club. He was affiliated with the K. of L. and the Federation of Labor, and held office in those bodies for fifteen years. This proved him to be a thorough union man.

When Brother Pannell made the golden state his home and settled in Santa Clara Valley, he joined his brother musicians and became a member (charter) of Local 153, and his fellow members appreciating his efforts in their behalf in uplifting and broadening the culture of music, unanimously elected him an honorary member for life. Brother Pannell is comfortably situated in his country home in the town of Campbell, about five miles from San Jose, which is in the heart of the great Santa Clara Valley. He is surrounded by the trees and vines and the comforts of his family, enjoying good health in the sixty-eighth year of his age.

SOME cities, towns, firms and individuals in the localities in and around San Francisco have attempted to take advantage of the calamity of the people by raising rents, land values, prices of commodities, etc. It is refreshing to know that the names of such are being taken for future reference. Now is the time to be generous. And let us suggest that now above all other times money should be put in circulation. If you owe money to your groceryman, or other dealer or person,—and can do so—now is the time to help. Money is needed badly now in order to meet cash demands. This is the time for those who have means to be magnanimous, and for patience with those who are short of cash.

WE are warned that newspaper is now a scarce article and if the PRESS appears next week printed on some of Downing's butcher paper don't be surprised. Those papers up and down the coast that have been using "patent insides" which are usually printed in the city and then expressed to them, are having a hard time of it just now. These papers are issuing half sheets now and telling of the scarcity of paper. You have our sympathy, brothers.

The Town Board should adopt an ordinance raising the commission of the treasurer to at least 3 per cent of the money handled. At present that official gets a commission of 1 per cent, which amounts to about $8 a year after he has paid for his bond of office. —San Juan Echo.

THE past two weeks have demonstrated what kind of citizens our coast is peopled with—the kind with plenty of grit and with big hearts. With such people a new era dawns.

This is the time to keep a strong heart and stiff upper lip.

Sciatic Cured After Twenty Years Torture.

For more than twenty years Mr. J. B. Massey, of 3322 Clinton St., Minneapolis, Minn., was tortured by sciatic. The pain and suffering which he endured during this time is beyond comprehension. Nothing gave him any permanent relief until he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. One application of that liniment relieved the pain and made sleep and rest possible, and less than one bottle has effected a permanent cure. If troubled with sciatic or rheumatism why not try a 25c bottle of Pain Balm and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain. For sale by Farmers Union, Agent.

FACTS FOR FARMERS.

(By J. A. Filcher, Secretary State Agricultural Society)

Some data condensed from the annual report of the United States Secretary of Agriculture, for 1905, will be of interest to the farmers of California and should have a tendency to stimulate that love for the farm which has been growing weak in the hearts of too many farmers' boys.

The year on the whole was one of unsurpassed prosperity to the farmers; production was unequaled; values reached the highest figures yet attained, and the surplus maintained the magnitude which by successive additions for many years changed our country from a borrower to a lender.

Farm crops were never before harvested that reached as high a level as those of 1905. The corn crop rose to 2,708,000,000 bushels, which was 42,000,000 over the next lower year, and was worth $1,216,000,000, or $128,000 more than the crop of 1904. The hay crop, second in value to corn, was not so large as in some previous years, but on account of the better prices brought more money, reaching in value the enormous total of $605,000,000. The cotton crop of the year was third in value, reaching the figure of $575,000,000. The short wheat crop of 1904 caused some to fear that the country's production had fallen to the level of consumption. That this fear was unfounded is evidenced from the fact that the crop of 1905 was the second largest this country ever produced, 684,000,000 bushels, and the value of this crop, $525,000,000, overtops the highest before reached, in 1891, by $11,000,000. Oats, the fifth in value among the crops of 1905, amounted to 939,000,000 bushels, worth $282,000,000. In value as well as yield this crop has been exceeded in only two previous years. Potatoes in 1905 were a partial failure and fell below the yield of the preceding year 72 million bushels, but in value the crop reached 138 million dollars, only 13 million dollars below the highest previous value, that for 1903. Barley, which has much increased in recent years in both value and production, reached 133 million bushels, worth 58 million dollars, only 4 million dollars under the most valuable crop of this cereal ever produced, that of 1902. Tobacco, like potatoes, was a short crop last year, but because of high prices is estimated to be worth 52 million dollars, which is close to the highest figures ever realized from one year's crop. The raw crop of sugar cane and sugar beets for 1905 is estimated to be worth 50 million dollars, which also on account of high prices almost exceeds the highest value yet reached, that of 1899. The rice crop for 1905 was 637 million pounds, estimated to exceed in value the next largest crop, which was worth $13,892,000. Six years previously this country produced only 250 million pounds, showing a rapid rise in the industry. It will be observed from the foregoing figures that while only one crop—corn—reached its highest production last year, four crops reached their highest value, namely, corn, hay, wheat, and rice.

Dairy and Poultry.—Both butter and milk brought higher prices in 1905 than in 1904, which, with increased production, brought the value of dairy products to 665 million dollars. This shows that the output of the dairy cow is only beaten by corn. As the report says, "The farmers' hen is becoming a worthy companion to the cow." The annual production of eggs is now a score of billions, and the value of poultry products has climbed to more than half a billion dollars, showing that the hen is a competitor of wheat for precedence.

Domestic Animals.—Neither the bicycle, automobile, electric trolley, nor all combined, have scared the farmers' horses into less numbers or lower prices. The number of horses on farms last year is estimated at 17 million, and their value at 1,200 million dollars. Mules also are steadily increasing and are worth 252 million dollars. Milch cows are increasing in number and have reached a total of 17,500,000, worth 482 million dollars. Other cattle have decreased in number to 43,669,000, worth 662 million dollars. Sheep, too, are declining in number and value, but swine hold their own, the number last year being over 47 million, valued at over 283 million dollars. Quoting verbatim from the Secretary's report, he says: "In the aggregate, the value of farm animals of all sorts has increased a few million dollars within a year, and has increased 249 million dollars since the census of 1900, or 9 per cent.

As indicating the strength of the farmer in wealth and production it is stated that during the last sixteen years the exports of farm products (that is, the surplus over and above the home demand) have amounted to 12 billion dollars, or 1 billion dollars more than enough to buy all the railroads in the country at their commercial value. Truly, the farmer is king!

A woman in Illinois recently sued a man for $5,000 for a kiss, and the jury awarded her $139. While this is a real bargain counter reduction, we can see how she can make a fair income at that rate if she gets real busy.—San Juan Echo.

EARLY APPLES.

Varieties That Bring Good Money to a Delaware Grower.

Of course we all understand that location and soil make a great difference, but with us the early apples that are profitable are the Yellow Transparent, the Fourth of July and the Williams Red. We grow principally early apples. The Early Ripe is a better apple than the Early Harvest. It is like it, only the tree is a stronger grower and the fruit more uniform. We have found in late years the apples that bring money are the Yellow Transparent, the

YELLOW TRANSPARENT APPLE.

Fourth of July and the Williams Red. The Early Transparent can be picked when three-quarters matured and put upon the market, and that is where we get our money. They have brought more money in our shipping to London than any others.

The Fourth of July is superior to the Astrakhan and is a better tree. One can pick the crop in three pickings, whereas the Astrakhan will take thirty days, for, when the Astrakhan is nearly ripe, about the time we try to catch hold of it it falls to the ground. The union of the stem to the branch is very poor, and the fruit drops. The only objection we have to the Williams Red is that it grows a little too large. But the Williams Red is a money maker. The Newtown Pippins have been very successful, and since we put them in cold storage we get more money out of them simply because they have a higher quality.—A. N. Brown, Delaware.

SEED SOWING.

Preparing, Planting and Caring For Seed Boxes in the House.

With the sowing of seed is where the beginner in flower culture may make most sorrowful mistakes. Here are some little hints: The boxes in which seeds are to be sowed should have holes for drainage in the bottom, but should not be so open as to keep the soil dry. Ordinary garden soil may be used in the bottom, but at the top there should be a lighter soil, well mixed. The small seed should be sowed on the surface, then fine soil spread over and pressed down, but not so hard as to cause the soil to bake. Coarse seed can best be planted in little drills or each seed pressed down into the soil and the whole covered with a thin layer of earth, as with the small seed. The soil should be gently sprinkled with water immediately after the planting. Only the quantity of water which the soil can absorb without becoming soggy should be given. The box should be watered subsequently whenever the soil becomes dry a little below the surface.

It is a good practice to sow the seed in rows, as this enables the soil to be stirred to prevent it from baking. The box should be set by the window and given plenty of light, but at the same time shielded from the hot sun. When the plants have grown to a fair size it will be warm enough outdoors to set them out in the garden. Ageratum, sweet alyssum, snapdragons, heliotropes, lobelias, nasturtiums and verbenas can be treated successfully this way.

A Way With Sweet Peas.

From a pile of evergreens, which had been used as a winter covering for hybrid remontant roses, large flat spreading branches were selected and tacked to the surface of the fence, covering it from the bottom to the top, thus forming a capital support for the numerous tendrils of the clinging vines.

The plants, which comprised several varieties, climbed to the top of the branches, Blanche Ferry with the others, though that variety is usually set down as a dwarf. The fence was a wall of bloom throughout the season and was well decked with flowers when cut down by frost in mid-October. By watchfully training the side branches and bending down a portion of the plants the bloom was kept evenly distributed over the surface. I never before had so adequate an idea of the refined and glorious beauty of the sweet peas as that afforded by this experiment, which shows the importance of ample support, supplied in advance, for the tendrils.—Amateur.

Three Famous Trees.

The elm tree in Philadelphia under which William Penn made his famous treaty with nineteen tribes of barbarians.

The charter oak at Hartford, which preserved the written guarantee of the liberties of the colony of Connecticut.

The old liberty elm of Boston, planted and dedicated by a schoolmaster to the independence of the colonies and the rallying point for patriots before, during and after the Revolutionary war.

Making Cuttings.

Cuttings of fuchsias, double petunias, verbenas, heliotropes and bedding geraniums should be inserted in sand, taking care to place them in a dry, warm position and to keep the soil moderately dry after the first watering until roots have been formed.

STRAY PETALS

Grow violets in a half shady border. When in bloom keep the roots moist, but not the foliage.

Pansy, nasturtium, petunia, cineraria, gloxinia, gladiolus and canna seeds may all be sown now indoors.

A few roots of dahlias can be potted and started into growth now if you want some very early flowers.

Be on the lookout for lice on young plants. If any are discovered make an infusion of the ordinary household white soap and spray.

Forsythia suspensa is a fine wall plant outdoors.

Blue flags and yellow day lilies (hemerocallis) combine handsomely when planted together.

Cuttings may be stuck in sand at any season of the year, but early spring is generally considered a propitious time.

W. C. T. U. Election.

At the regular meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union which met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Whitman, a large attendance was present. This was the date set for the annual election of trustees. Though it is now only ten months since the Union opened a Coffee Club and Rest Room, reports of the work were made by the president, Mrs. Savage; by the secretary, Mrs. Whitman; and by the treasurer, Mrs. Hanger, showing a year of successful work, with a small balance in the treasury.

The Coffee Club is controlled by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, under the management of a board of seven trustees, elected by the Union. The following were elected by ballot: Mrs. Savage, Mrs. Whitman and Mrs. Hanger to serve three years; Mrs. Poor and Mrs. Kennedy to serve two years; Mrs. Chas. Gilman and Mrs. Righter to serve one year.

We wish to thank all our friends and patrons who have helped by their contributions, their patronage, their encouragement or in any way assisted in carrying forward the work. This project has proved a good work and in its continuance may we not hope for the same helpfulness and encouragement that has been given so kindly in the past.

Mrs. E. H. Black Injured.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Black had a severe experience in the earthquake. They were living at 16th and Valencia Streets, and Mr. Black's business (wholesale oils and paints) was in the heart of the city. This latter was first destroyed by the fire the day of the quake and that night the residence was taken with all its contents, as well as the home of Mrs. Black's mother which was located across the street. Nothing was saved from either the business or the home. Sometime during that day of misfortunes, as Mrs. Black was driving from the store to the house, her carriage collided with another and Mrs. Black was thrown to the pavement, breaking her arm and sustaining severe bruises. After the loss of their home, they drove to San Mateo, where Mrs. Black's brother lives and remained until Friday when they started for the orchard home near Campbell. Here they will spend the summer, at least. Mr. Black with characteristic energy has already begun a new building for his business on the site of his former home.

Captain and Mrs. Tower who also lost their home and other possessions in the fire, are guests of Mrs. Black.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Lloyd are the proud parents of a baby boy, born Sunday, April 22d, at Sunnyvale.

If you had all the wealth of Rockefeller, the Standard Oil Magnate, you could not buy a better medicine for bowel complaints than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The most eminent physician can not prescribe a better preparation for colic and diarrhoea, both for children and adults. The uniform success of this remedy has shown it to be superior to all others. It never fails, and when reduced with water and sweetened, is pleasant to take. Every family should be supplied with it. Sold by Farmers Union, Agent.

The Main Highway.

Southern and Union Pacific Railways, via Ogden, across Great Salt Lake to Omaha, Kansas City, Chicago and East. The great transcontinental trunk line with magnificent, fast, daily, overland, limited trains and personally conducted tourist excursions in quickest time. All tickets good via San Francisco. See nearest Southern Pacific Agent.

It is Dangerous to Neglect a Cold.

How often do we hear it remarked: "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and has gained its great popularity and extensive sale by its prompt cures of this most common ailment. It always cures and is pleasant to take. For sale by the Farmers Union, agent.

Sore Nipples.

A cure may be effected by applying Chamberlain's Salve as soon as the child is done nursing. Wipe it off with a soft cloth before allowing the child to nurse. Many trained nurses use this salve with the best results. Price 25c per box. Sold by Farmers Union, Agent.

Heavy hauling cheaply done. Regular trips to San Jose. Call on L. J. Stratton or leave word at Farmers Union.

PRESS NOTES

We are admonished to "forget" about the quake and "get busy."

Campbell is now a broad gauge town, at least in respect to railroads.

The I. O. O. F. building was examined and found to be in a safe condition.

It is said that earthquakes never strike twice in the same place. Let us hope so.

Messrs. Newcomb, Baumgartner and Sawyer are getting their respective dwellings under way.

The company that will organize an earthquake insurance company ought to do a "land office" business. Why not?

Andrew Johnson gave us an account of the interesting things in San Francisco as seen during a two days' visit there.

Some 75 of the county's water tanks went down by the shake. Evidently some of the county roads will go dry this summer.

Mrs. W. H. St. John is here visiting friends. She passed through the San Francisco fire with her daughter, Mrs. Brown, but their home was not burned.

The banks opened for business Tuesday and, strange to say, in many places the deposits exceeded the withdrawals. The banks acted wisely during the crisis.

Mr. Beaver tells us that his mother's beautiful home in the city was destroyed by dynamite, losing all the family relics and paintings. She is 75 years old.

Several rods have been placed through the Bank of Campbell brick building as a precaution against further damage. The building was very little damaged by the quake.

Rev. A. H. Needham tells an interesting story of his experiences in getting through San Francisco on that eventful 18th of April, when he succeeded in reaching Berkeley.

The Campbell Water Company is putting up some substantial water tanks in the place of the ruined ones, using a heavy cement foundation. Whitney and Evans are the builders.

The special services at the M. E. Church have been in progress this week and will continue during the coming week, under the leadership of Miss Fassett, the deaconess. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these services.

So many slight tremors have been noticeable the past week or two that none but timid persons or those who passed through the San Francisco shock pay little attention to them.

The repairs to the county building will be pushed along as rapidly as possible. The new Hall of Justice was badly wrecked and the Recorder's office in the Hall of Records looks as if a Kansas cyclone had hit it.

It's an ill "quake" that does not blow some one good. The carpenters, plasterers, bricklayers, and laborers are doing a rushing business. And the building supply dealers will have their hands full to meet the demand for a long time to come.

Mr. John Brynteson suffered the loss of his splendidly equipped Sailors' Home in San Francisco, which he recently built and furnished at a cost of some sixty or seventy-five thousand dollars for the benefit of the sailors. It was located on the water front near the Ferry.

Another Campbellite to lose heavily in the San Francisco fire was L. H. Sly, the fruit grower and capitalist. His several large blocks were all ruined, and while his insurance will amount to between one and two hundred thousand dollars, yet his loss is heavy.

Uncle Sam permitted persons in San Francisco to send mail matter out without postage, even without being inclosed in envelopes and it was an interesting sight to see a mail pouch full of scraps of paper, card or other material addressed to relatives or friends, bearing news of their safety. That privilege is now done away with and at Campbell postoffice are a number of such letters which will require a stamp before being delivered.
